An Invitation

This is to invite you to take part in the 2004 CCEAM Regional Conference organized jointly by the Centre of Educational Leadership of The University of Hong Kong in HKSAR and the School of Education Science of the East China Normal University in Shanghai. The theme of the Conference 'Educational Leadership in Pluralistic Societies' is to capture and reflect the different understandings and practices of educational management in general and educational leadership in particular and their implications in different societies of the globe. Though with the same theme, the two venues will have different foci. The Hong Kong Session will put more emphasis on theoretical underpinning while in Shanghai, it will lean more on practice. We would try to adhere to this differentiation.

Like all conferences, the coming CCEAM Regional Conference will have activities including keynotes, plenary sessions, paper presentation, symposia, workshops, round tables and poster exhibition. Whether we could have the variety of activities will depend totally on your participation.

We therefore appeal to you to register as early as you can. The fee for respective conference in Hong Kong and Shanghai is US$300. To encourage you to participate in both Sessions, we are delighted to reduce the total fee to US$500 only. When you come to both Hong Kong and Shanghai, you will not only have opportunities to meet greater number of researchers, practitioners from the four corners of the world, and teachers and students from the two metropolis, you will also see in your own eyes, how these two rival cities in China are set in keen competition in many areas and what scores have they achieved thus far.

We look forward to seeing you in Hong Kong, Shanghai, or in both places.
